

Pure Bridging hires Richard Clare as Underwriter

Pure Bridging, a new principal lender offering both commercial and residential bridging finance, has recently hired Richard Clare as an Underwriter. Richard has had more than 18 years experience in the mortgage industry since he started his career with Halifax in his native Liverpool, before moving to London 10 years ago. During which time Richard has worked in a variety of roles ranging from Senior Underwriter to Business Development Manager with certain sub-prime lenders in London.

Pure Bridging is running many successful pilot initiatives at present with packagers and wholesalers which are to be expanded upon throughout 2007 and are already delivering on their ethos of a rapid, responsive and reliable bridging service to intermediaries and introducers.

Andrew Géczy, Managing Director said "Richard has unique skill set and experience. He has worked at both large and small lenders and has worked both as an underwriter and a business development manager. As a result, Richard brings an experienced and entrepreneurial client-focused approach to underwriting. I am convinced that he will deliver a rapid, responsive, and reliable service to our clients."
